Lectures & Events

Evening Lecture

Catherine Ince, Anthony Acciavatti, Prem Krishnamurthy & Åbåke
Legacy of an Untaught Lesson for a Hypothetical Course: the Eameses and Education

Monday 23 November, 6.00

Lecture Hall

This discussion about education and the legacy of the Eameses is organised in parallel with The World of Charles and Ray Eames, an exhibition at the Barbican Art Gallery, open until 14 February 2016.

Catherine Ince is senior curator for E20, the V&A's new museum in East London, and previously senior curator at the Barbican.

Anthony Acciavatti is a historian of science and technology, as well as an architect. He teaches at Columbia University.

Åbåke is a transdisciplinary studio based in East London, made up of Benjamin Reichen, Patrick Lacey, Kajsa Ståhl and Maki Suzuki.

Prem Krishnamurthy is a New York-based designer and curator and co-founder of the design studio Project Projects, the recipient of the Cooper Hewitt's 2015 National Design Award for Communication Design.

Evening Lecture

Nadav Kander

In conversation with Mark Campbell

Tuesday 24 November, 6.00

Lecture Hall

The Israeli-born and London-based artist Nadav Kander is renowned for his portraiture and large-format landscape photographs. This discussion will look at Kander's work in order to examine the role and possibility of photography in describing and representing architecture.

Nadav Kander's photographs appear in numerous publications worldwide. He was named International Photographer of the Year at the 7th Annual Lucie Awards in 2009 and has also received numerous awards – from the Art Director's Club and IPA in the US, D&AD and the John Kobal Foundation in the UK, and Epic in Europe.

Mark Campbell has taught history and design at the AA since 2005. He is director of the MPhil in Media Practices and the 'Paradise Lost' AA Research Cluster.

Book Launch

Anthony Acciavatti

Ganges Water Machine:

Designing New India's Ancient River

Tuesday 24 November, 6.30

AA Bookshop

Beyond the dense urbanism of Mumbai and the technology centres of Bangalore and Hyderabad lies the Ganges River basin, 1.1 million km<sup>2</sup> in area and home to over one-quarter of India's billion-plus population. While most of the basin sits within India, it extends into Bangladesh, Nepal and Tibet. Not only is the area one of the most densely populated river basins in the world, but every year it also undergoes radical physical changes. Reaching into the very heart of some of India's most densely populated cities, small towns, industrial zones, sacred sites and mountainous forests, Ganges Water Machine explores and theorises about the people and infrastructures that have shaped this territory.

Members' Tour

The World of Charles and Ray Eames

Wednesday 25 November, 6.30

Barbican Art Gallery

AA Membership is delighted to offer an exclusive chance to visit The World of Charles and Ray Eames exhibition at the Barbican, led by curator Catherine Ince. The event is currently fully booked. To get on the reserve list please email events@aa.school.ac.uk.

Book Launch

Precisions: On the Present State of Architecture and City Planning
With an Essay by Tim Benton

Wednesday 25 November, 6.30

AA Bookshop

Precisions originated from a series of ten lectures presented by Le Corbusier in Buenos Aires in 1929. This expanded edition presents the Precisions lectures to a new audience. During the lectures, Le Corbusier punctuated his points with a series of improvised crayon-on-paper drawings. This is the first edition to reproduce colour facsimiles of these drawings. The volume also includes an essay by historian Tim Benton.

Evening Lecture

Sam Arthur, Nobrow

The Book as an Object in a Digital Age

Thursday 26 November, 6.00

Lecture Hall

Sam Arthur of Nobrow/Flying Eye discusses the book as an object and why it isn't going to disappear from our shelves any time soon.

Sam Arthur is founding partner and Managing Director of the award-winning Nobrow Press, set up in 2008 as a narrative and graphic art publishing platform. He is also co-founder of the new children's book imprint Flying Eye Books.

School Meeting

Director's Annual Presentation to the School 2015–16

Friday 27 November, 1.00

Lecture Hall

Friday Lecture Series

Mark Cousins

finis.

Friday 27 November, 5.00

Lecture Hall

For this lecture series Mark Cousins argues that 'anon' is a much more important figure in the history and practice of the arts, but we conceal this from ourselves by insisting that art and architecture are produced by a sovereign artist, a dictator of creativity.

Phaidon & Blueprint

20/20 collaboration

The High Line

Liz Diller (Diller Scofidio + Renfro) & Brett Steele in conversation

Friday 27 November, 6.30

Lecture Hall

The High Line is the first book to chart the transformation of a historic elevated railway in New York into a world-famous public park. To mark its release Liz Diller joins Brett Steele for a conversation about the High Line and its impact. This event is organised in partnership with Blueprint Magazine and Phaidon.

Liz Diller is a founding partner of Diller Scofidio + Renfro, an interdisciplinary design studio that integrates architecture, the visual arts and the performing arts, and whose work includes Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts and the recently opened Broad Museum in Los Angeles. Founding partners Diller and Scofidio were the first in architecture to be recognised with a grant from the MacArthur Foundation.

Please note: this event will be ticketed with information released closer to the time of the event. Check the What's On section at aa.school.ac.uk for more details.

Exhibitions

Exhibitions are open from Monday 21 September to Tuesday 12 December (unless otherwise listed), Monday to Friday 10.00–7.00, Saturday 10.00–5.00

Didier Faustino: Undomesticated Places

AA Gallery

Undomesticated Places presents two projects by the French artist and architect Didier Faustino, one inside the AA Gallery and one in the public space of Bedford Square.

The first part of the exhibition, inside the building, takes the form of an immersive space in which the video triptych Exploring Dead Buildings 2.0 is shown on giant screens. The spectator is invited to lie down to enjoy the images of a performance realised on the occasion of the 12th Havana Biennial. Outside, in Bedford Square, a second rendition of This is not a Love Song – created for the first time in 2014, in Meudon, France – has been built. This monochromatic performance-architecture will be a platform in the urban environment, welcoming everyday events to activate its meaning. The installation provides a site for action, in the manner of Speaker's Corner.

The exhibition presents two approaches to performative practice in the closely-linked fields of contemporary art and architecture, representative of Didier Faustino's obsession with the location of the body in private and public space.

Nigel Swann

The Yellow-Star Houses of Budapest

Front Members' Room

In 1944 new laws in occupied Hungary forced all of Budapest's Jewish citizens to wear a yellow star and to live under curfew in a designated house also marked with a yellow star. Across the city almost 2,000 such houses accommodated around 220,000 people.

These houses were unique to Budapest, and although around 1,600 former yellow-star properties are still in residential use today, until recently their history was largely unknown.

Over a 10-year period, photographer Nigel Swann documented Budapest's inner city districts. Unbeknownst to him, many of his images were of yellow-star houses. When an official list of houses was finally published in 2014 on yellowstarhouses.org, Swann returned to rephotograph these significant locations.

Director's Selection: Projects Review 2015

Graduate Gallery

Presenting the AA Director's selection of the best student work produced during 2014–15.

Media Studies Lab Courses

Digital Workflows: After Effects – Integrating Photoshop, Illustrator and Premiere

Will Gowland

Saturday 28 November, 10.00

39 First Floor Back, Computer lab

Digital Workflow sessions are more advanced sessions, focusing on workflows rather than singular applications, moving between programs and using plug-ins. This session looks at the integration of multiple Adobe software with a focus on After Effects and how various Adobe applications feed into an AE project. Students will start with the Basics of AE moving quickly into more advanced techniques. A basic knowledge of Adobe Illustrator and Photoshop is recommended.

Please email aamedia@aacschool.ac.uk to guarantee a place, or simply turn up on the day.
